

Tell Your Senators No Delay on Swipe Fee Relief

ISSUE: Last year, Congress passed legislation supported by NLBMDA to provide "swipe fee" relief to retailers in the building supply industry. The legislation directed the Federal Reserve Board to make new rules governing the transaction fees, or "swipe fees" charge by Visa and MasterCard when retailers accept credit or debit cards for payment.

Unfortunately, the Senate may vote as early as this week on legislation to stop that relief from taking effect next month. Sen. Jon Tester's legislation would delay this needed relief by up to two years.

TAKE ACTION: Click here to tell your Senators to vote NO on any delay of needed "swipe fee" relief for retailers and consumers.
