

THE WBMA EDUCATIONAL LINK SCHOLARSHIP FUND 1998 Scholarship Recipients

Andrew H. Streit graduated from Meadowdale High School in Lynnwood, Washington. He will attend the University of Washington this fall where he will major in Political Science.

Andrew was a yearly member of the honor society and actively involved with many athletic teams such as: basketball, cross country, baseball and track. During his senior year, he was Captain of the varsity basketball team, an Edmonds City Council Student Representative and an ASB Executive Council member.

A teacher writes that Andrew has ... "a personal charisma and depth of character that is rare in a person of any age".

Andrew sees college as not only as an opportunity to better his education, but also to accomplish his dreams. One of his dreams is to become a lawyer and be as well rounded as humanly possible.

Nicole Lynn Bolton graduated from Marist High School in Eugene, Oregon. She plans to attend the University of Washington and has not yet declared a course of study.

During high school, Nicole was active with the school newspaper, Spanish Club Vice-President, Key Club and was a retreat leader and rector. She also participated in basketball, water polo and swimming teams.

Nicole has worked part-time as an assistant manager for Warm Oven Cookies for the last two years as well as off and on for Weatherly's.

She plans to pursue a variety of areas next year and find a study where her strengths and interests coincide.

David Rein Parry graduated in May of 1998 from Nampa Senior High School in Nampa, Idaho. This fall, he will attend the University of Idaho to study Computer Science and History.

David was very active in his church and an Eagle Scout with many honors. He was the Captain of the high school ski team, a honor society member, named to Who's Who Among American High School Students and volunteered for the Nampa Public Library and Salvation Army.

"David's morals and values are well-balanced and of the highest caliber." writes a fellow Scout leader.

David plans to do one of two things: go on to teach in secondary education or continue on to graduate school.

Abigail Guisinger is a graduate of Molalla High School in Molalla, Oregon. This fall, she will attend LeTourneau University in Longview, Texas to study Pre-Medicine and Elementary Education.

Abigail was involved in student government as an ASB Vice President, member of the honor roll and participated in soccer, basketball and softball. She is also an active member of 4-H, teaches Sunday School at her church and works part-time at the Molalla Telephone Company.

"She is one of those rare students who takes on any issue with enthusiasm and has the drive to complete it to the best of her ability," writes one of her teachers.

She plans to gain experience by working with medical and mission outreach teams in the U.S. and foreign countries, then attend medical school to become a licensed pediatrician.
